II ON PASSION, PURPOSE TEEN DREAMS, GOING PRO AND EVERYTHING BETWEEN

My interest in stocks came about at the tender age of seventeen. My friend's father was a trader with state-of the-art (and very expensive at the time) charting software. Since we were neighbours, my friend and I scrutinised charts during every minute of free time we had to see how it worked. We knew nothing - all we had was that obsessive curiosity particular to teenagers.

A few months into my new passion, I saw that the Don Group was listing its shares at one cent a share. I repeatedly nagged and begged my father to invest R50 000 in Don shares, and he repeatedly refused. A month later, the Don shares shot up to R2.90 per share and had my father taken my 'expert' advice, the shares would have been worth R15 million!

Sometime later, I identified another great investment opportunity and this time my father agreed, investing R50 000. The listed company was liquidated two weeks later - I learned my first hard lesson in the trading world. Trading can be as unpredictable as the sea: stormy or calm with variable tides and treacherous currents, so losses are inevitably part of the process. (My father was less than thrilled with this lesson!)

Retail forex trading only became available during 1996. By 1998, my interest in trading became an obsession, and I received my own trading software as a birthday present. Since then, I have garnered more than 40 000 solid hours of screen time experience in chart reading.

With the dawn of the new millennium, I embarked on my first real Forex trading course, the beginning of an ongoing quest for the best of everything trade related: the best software, the best broker, the best service, the fastest server.

The IFX Academy was launched in 2012. Structured classes with in-depth technical analyses left the IFX Academy with an extensive social media footprint because we've trained over 2 000 traders!

It's simple. Talent meets technology.

We have the most powerful servers in the world, free from slippage and latency. Our technical analysis software is the most sophisticated anywhere, giving our traders an almost unfair advantage. All our Live account holders gain complimentary access to a mine of technical and practical information powered by IFX Academy. Successful online trading systems and strategies are entirely reliant on their execution infrastructure, so we provide in-depth technical analyses and chartist, mathematical trading approaches. And these services are constantly evaluated and upgraded.

It's all about trading - because that's what we do.

Whether you're just curious or crazy about trading, you may as well start with the best. IFX.

2015 is a year I'll always remember: I was one of a handful of traders who successfully grew a trading account from USD 200 000 to USD 2.5 million in nine weeks - take that, sports fans!

Actually, 2016 was a great year too. My dream of opening my own brokerage was realised, a brokerage based on the quest for the absolute best in everything. Our trading family, comprising the directors and staff, are the best of the very best in their fields of expertise. Our shareholders support the vision of uncompromised excellence.

REGULATORY AFFAIRS

Online trading

Getting down to business

Our products literally cater for any and all trading requirements, so you access the opportunities that are best for you. We combine a drive for the lowest possible trading cost with superior execution. IFX's comprehensive trading suite will more than meet your every trading requirement. For example, we offer over 70 currency pairs, gold and silver, oil and natural gas. We offer an extensive range of major indices, trading across the full range of IFX Brokers' multiple platforms.

Spot Metals

When you trade with IFX Brokers, you gain access to precious metal pairings. These include gold, silver, platinum and palladium that can be traded against either the US Dollar or the Euro. Precious metals are a great way to diversify your trading strategy, since supply and demand is not governed by a single country but the world as a whole.

CFDs

A CFD (contract for difference) is an offshoot of a financial asset through which it derives its value. In most instances, the underlying asset is stock, although there are also CFDs related to indices and other commodities. A CFD enables you to trade on the rise and fall of prices without owning the underlying asset.

Energies

Available to all account holders with IFX Brokers, oil and gas are available as commodities for trade on the IFX Metatrader 4 platform.

Commodities

In addition to energy and metal contracts, we offer a range of soft commodity products to trade, including corn, soybeans, sugar, coffee, and wheat as CFD's.

Sounds exciting, doesn't it? And it is, provided you're familiar with the fundamentals of soft commodity trading. World growth is the long-term driver of commodity prices since inevitably people will always require food, clothing, transport and electronic devices, amongst many other desires.

IFX Brokers give you access to the best potential trade opportunities.

Forex

Exceptionally low spread pricing is combined with rapid inter-bank implementation. To be sure, we have expanded our product offering - however our focus remains on providing Forex traders around the globe with the lowest costs possible. IFX concentrates on a low latency/high quality execution accompanied by flexible leverage and a reliable trading infrastructure. With spreads executed as low as 0.2 pips on EUR/USD, AUD/USD, GBP/USD and various other pairs, your overall trading costs are far lower when you partner with IFX Brokers.

Indices

Indices are the most popular form of CFD's. With a large range of Indices to choose from, trading on indices enables traders to speculate on whether an index will rise or fall, without buying shares in the underlying assets. In this sense, one can trade an index just as one would trade a stock, currency or commodity.

Equinix - Cybersonic Execution

In an increasingly competitive and volatile global trading atmosphere, online trading systems and strategies are entirely reliant on their execution infrastructure. Making or losing money is no longer determined by minutes but milliseconds

Stability

99.9% MT4 Uptime

Process Ability

150 Unique price feeds at speed

Our Platforms

IFX multi asset trading platforms

Reliable and completely secure, you can access 85 pre-installed indicators at the click of a button. IFX Meta Trader 4 provides enhanced charting functionality and highly sophisticated order management tools. It also has a multilingual interface, provides a comprehensive analysis and allows for multiple chart set ups.

IFX METATRADER 4 DESKTOP

Our revolutionary technology allows you trade with absolute accuracy, free from slippage and re-quotes and re-quotes.

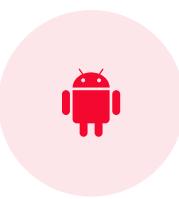

IFX METATRADER 4 for iPhone & iPad

Undoubtedly the most functional platform available for iOS devices, it enables you to trade anytime, anywhere in the world.

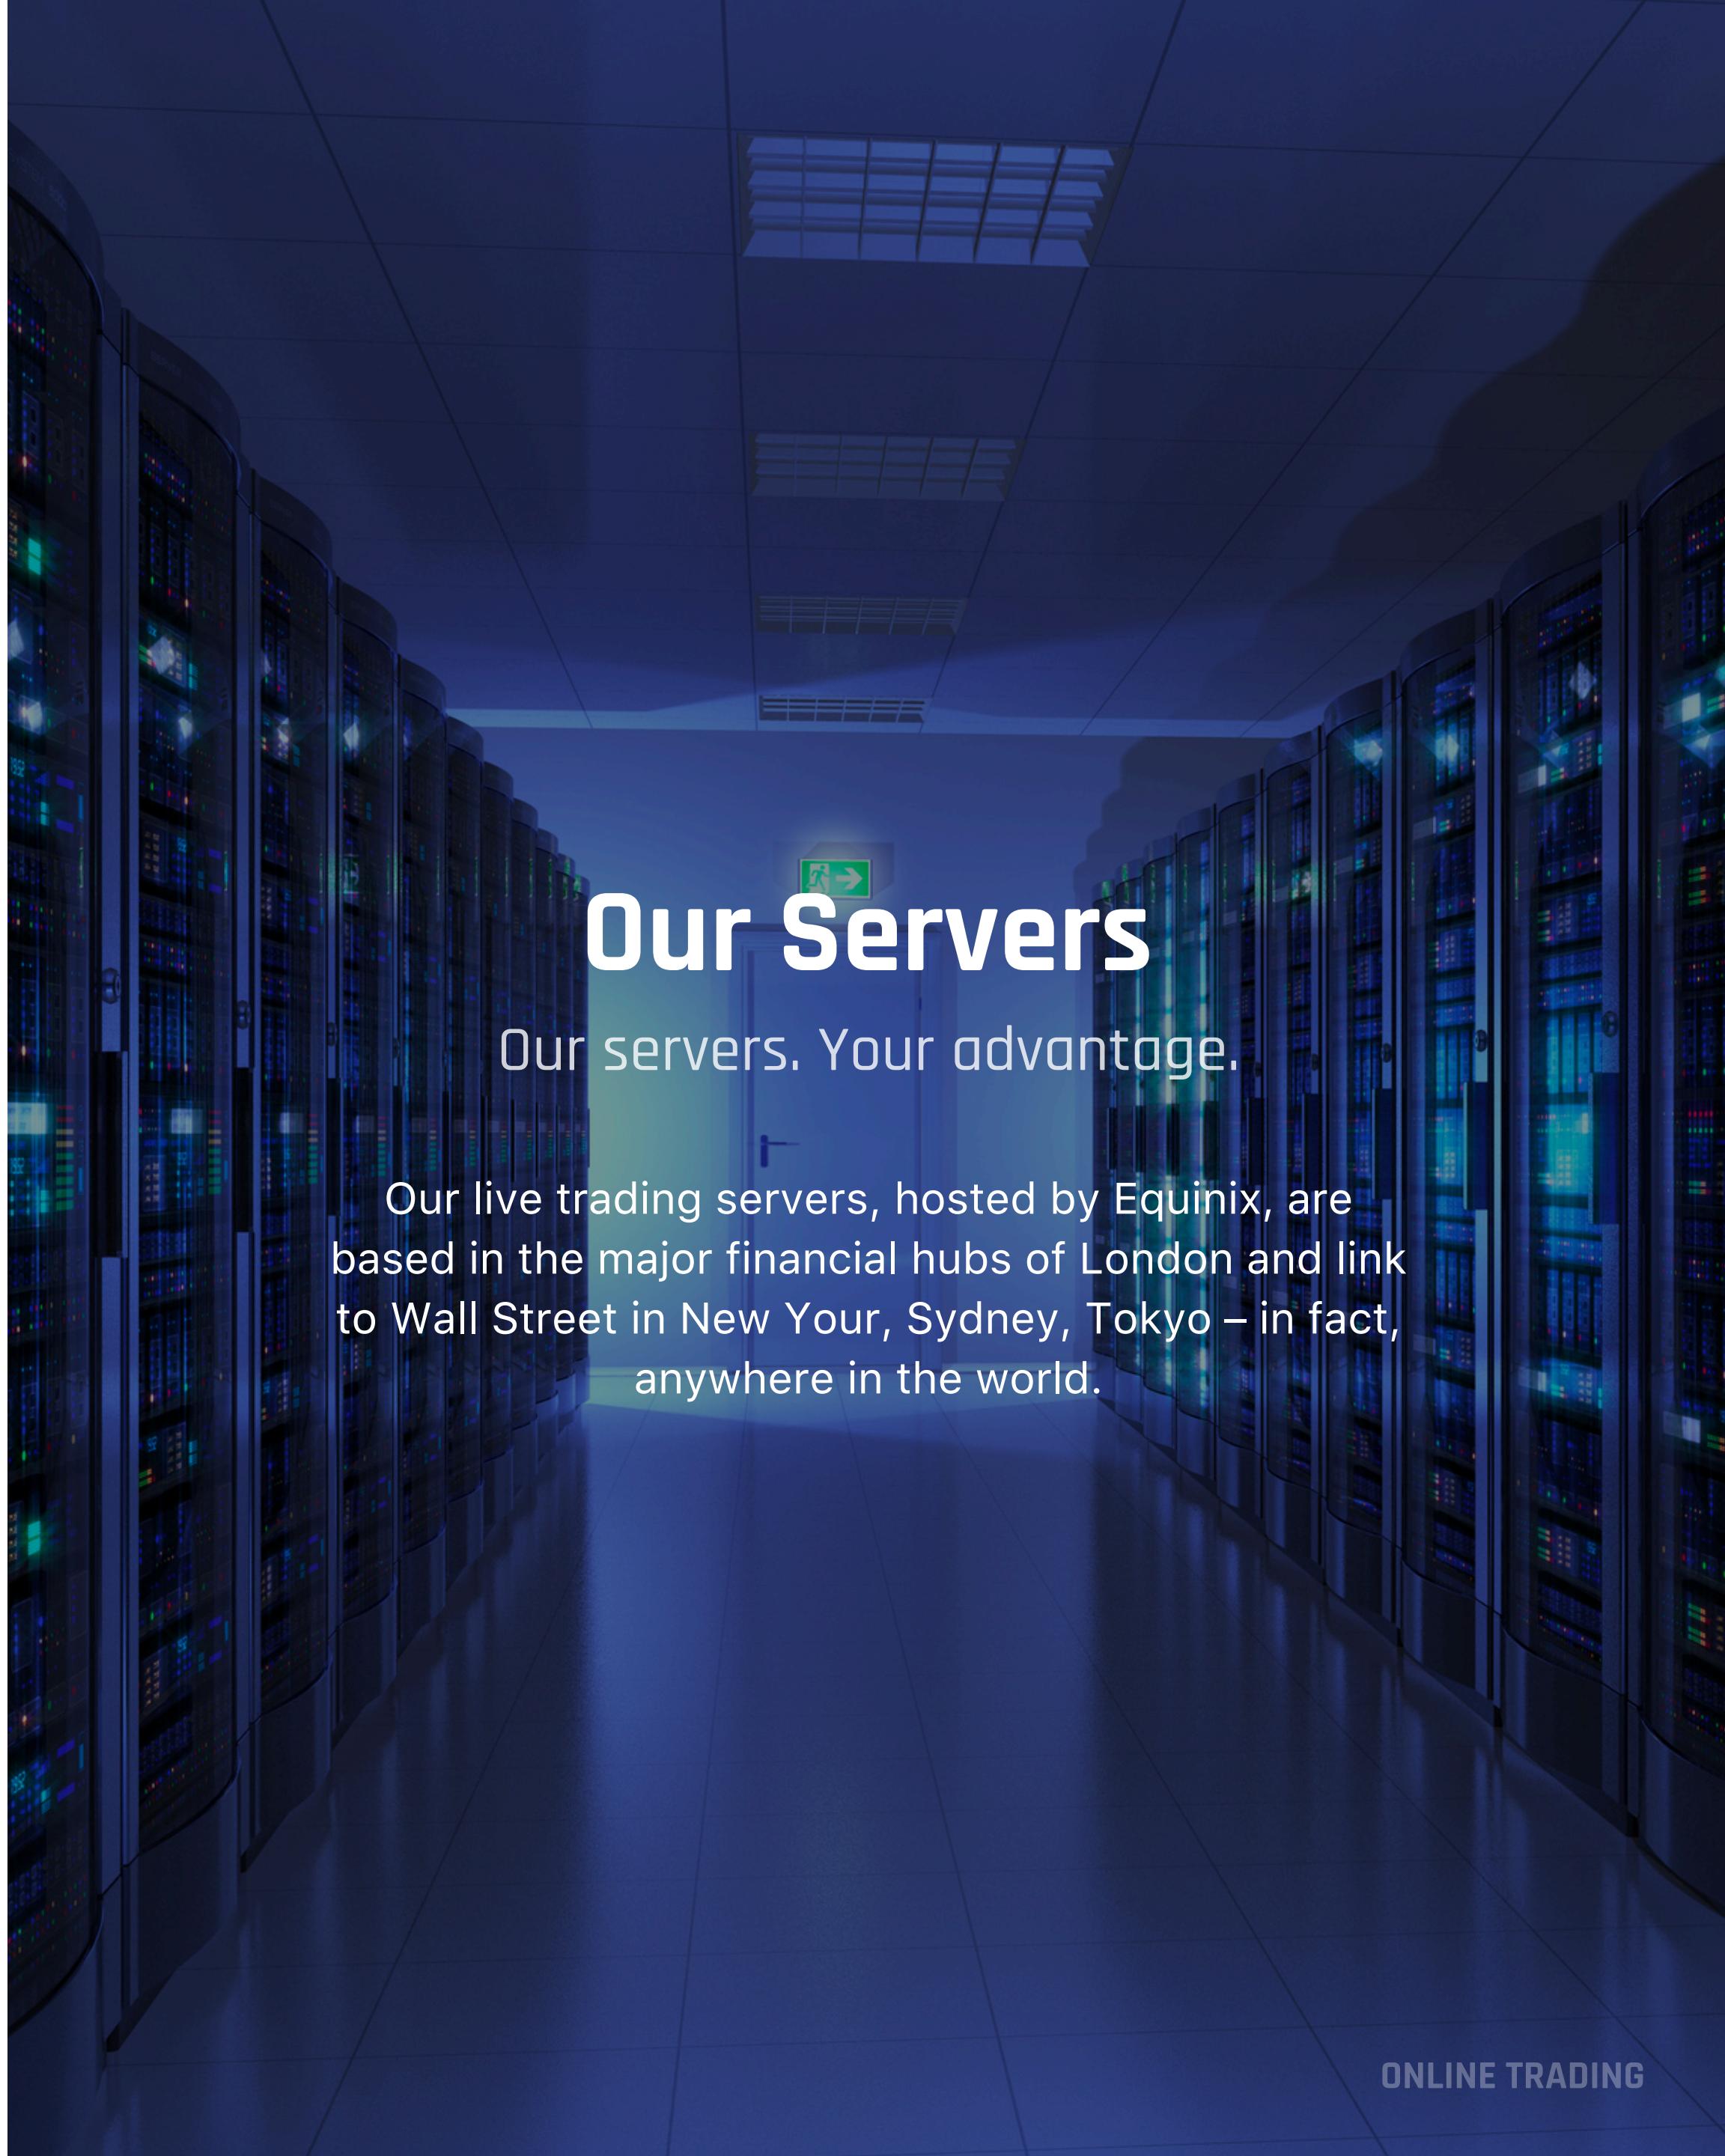

IFX MT4 WEBTRADER

This web platform allows you to trade easily and efficiently from any browser or operating system including Windows, Mac and Linux without any additional software. All you need is an internet connection to start trading.

IFX METATRADER 4 for Android

The IFX Meta Trader 4 Android OS app provides a comprehensive trading platform for Android devices. You have access to everything you need for successful forex trading.

Our Servers

Our servers. Your advantage.

Our live trading servers, hosted by Equinix, are based in the major financial hubs of London and link to Wall Street in New York, Sydney, Tokyo – in fact, anywhere in the world.

Let's get trading

As always, our trading conditions were designed with you in mind and it's no coincidence that they conform to the highest global standards. IFX Brokers are single-mindedly focused on ensuring that your trading experience is streamlined and profitable.

Funding your account

IFX Brokers offer flexible account funding options in a variety of base currencies. Please note that payments to and from international banks may incur costs by either or both parties. These costs are for your account, unless you are an IFX VIP account holder, in which case we cover these costs. We are unable to accept third party payments.

All payments must be affected through the bank account linked to your trading account. Should you be a joint signatory of a bank account or credit card, it will be accepted.

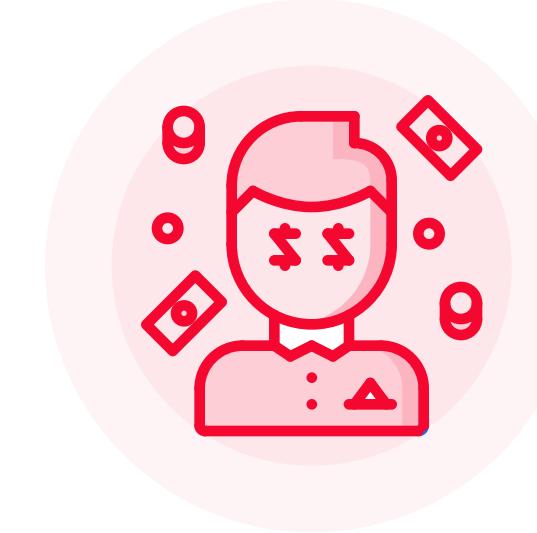

IFX Trade execution

Through 100% automated execution, IFX Brokers includes pricing from our top six liquidity providers. Trade execution latency is as low as 2.5 milliseconds. Settled immediately, this means no delays, no rejects, no re-quotes.

Spreads

True ECN connectivity means we are able to offer market leading spreads. More than 50 banks and dark pool liquidity sources price into our ECN at any given time. This ensures that our spreads remain tight and liquidity deep - 24 hours a day, five days a week.

Withdrawals

When you wish to undertake a withdrawal, kindly login to the Secure Client area.

Withdrawals for South African clients are normally processed within 2-4 hours. Please note that withdrawals for International clients transacted by bank wire transfer usually occur within three to five working days.

Due to third party regulations, funds will only be deposited in the bank account aligned with your IFX trading account. A joint bank account is acceptable, provided you are a mandated signatory.

Credit card withdrawals are limited to the original deposit amount. Withdrawals exceeding this amount require a different withdrawal method. Should an account, funded by credit card, be subject to a withdrawal within the first 60 days it will be refunded to that credit card only.

Trading Hours

IFX Brokers support variable trading hours to accommodate traders from all asset classes. A detailed listing on the current trading hours are available on our website, www.ifxbrokers.com

Learn

THE IFX ACADEMY

How do you access decades of experience and knowledge? Simple. You learn from the best.

As a value-added service IFX Brokers offer complimentary education powered by IFX Academy to Live funded account holders.

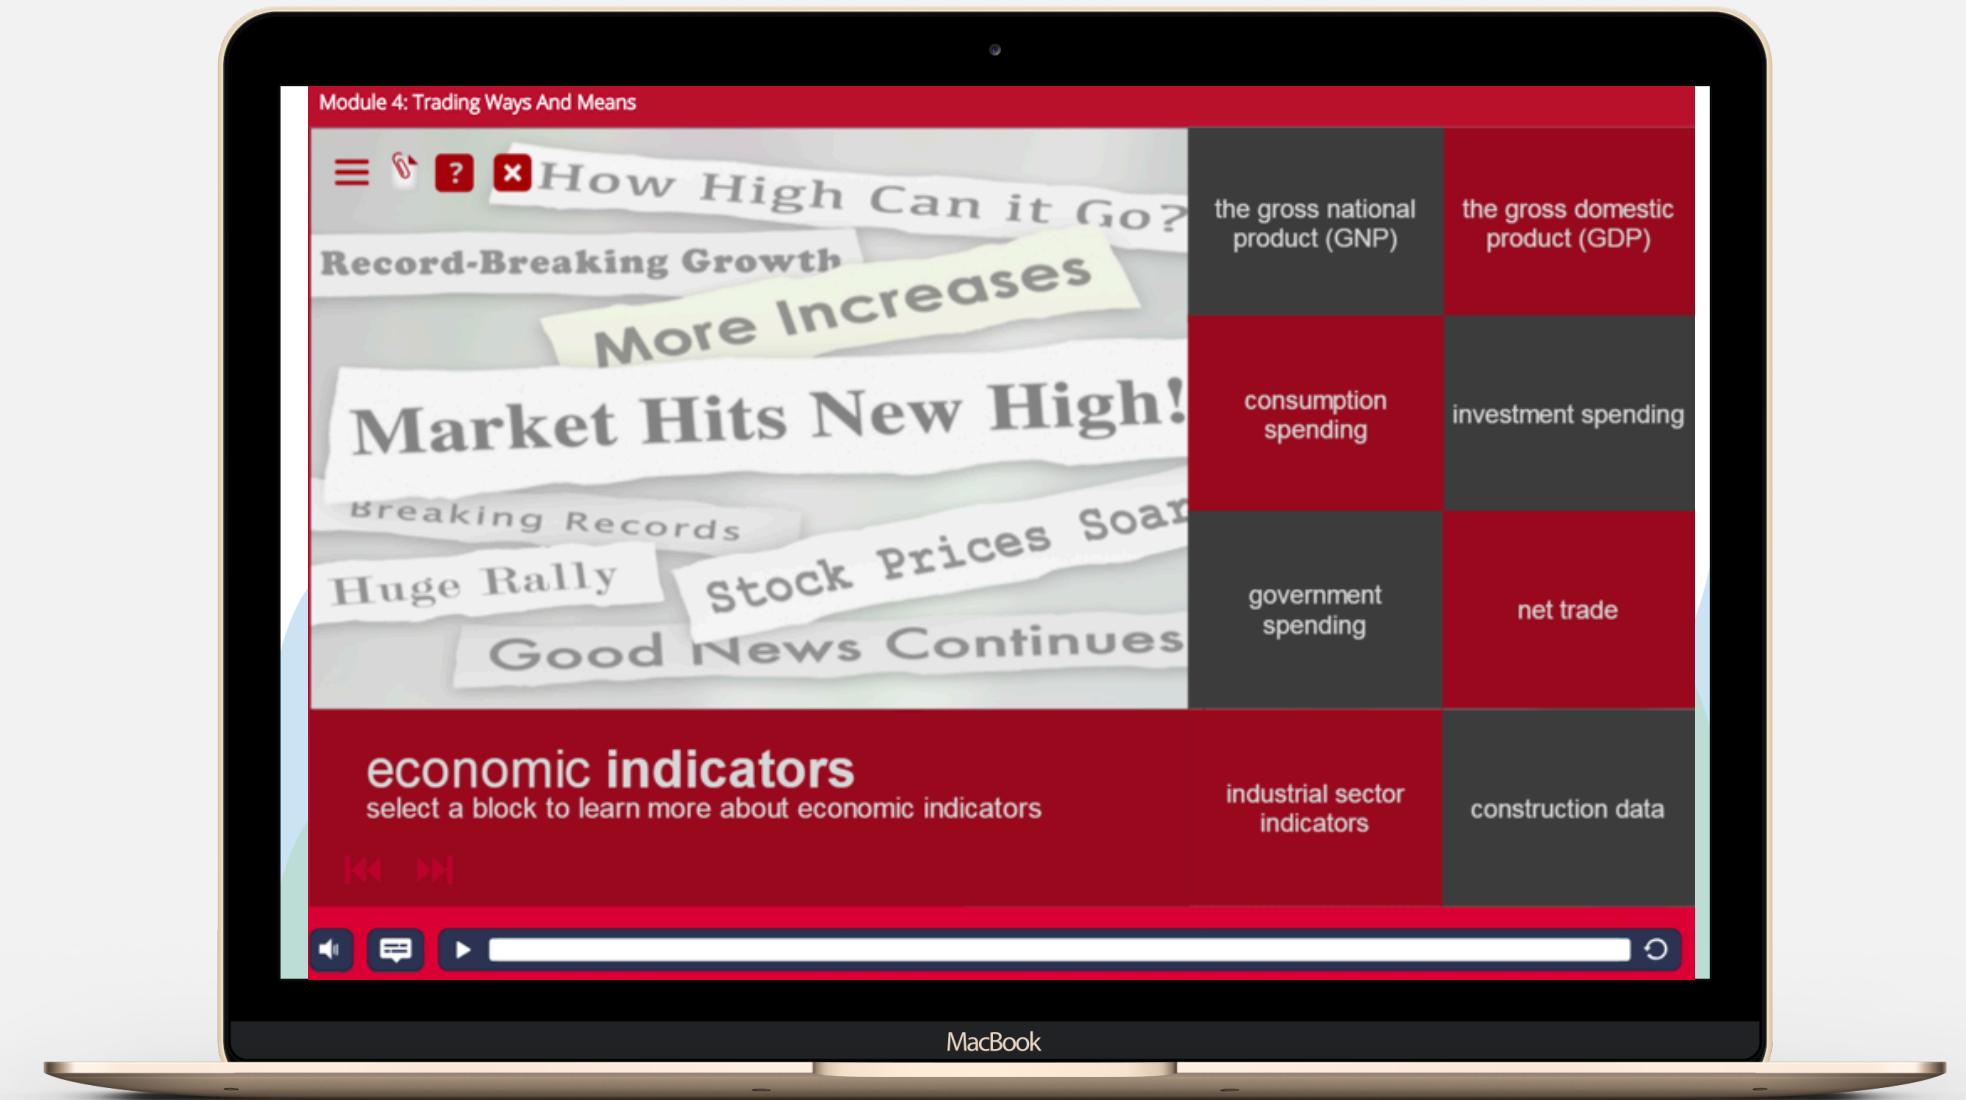

The Forex market is flooded with unscrupulous people who promise to teach you to trade in a quick crash course, over an hour or a day or two. This is not only unethical, it is impossible. Once you've parted with your hard-earned cash, you're on your own. We know that Forex trading is something that cannot be taught in a day or two. Fact. If that's what you expect, read no further.

Courses and modules have been designed by international Forex traders with decades of experience. Students, whether novices or professionals, are guided through each module, receiving detailed feedback on assignments, and online technical support 24/5.

Anyone with passion, determination and an iron will to succeed can become a trader – with the appropriate training, of course. Courses are designed to educate beginners and upscale the skills of professional traders to expert level.

The novice course teaches beginners what Forex is and how to avoid the common pitfalls and Forex trading challenges. Beginners are taught to develop a solid foundation with guidance every step of the way.

IFX Academy assist intermediate level traders to identify and overcome behavioral patterns that negatively impact on their trading habits, improving their performance and profit margins. Advanced traders benefit from the complex analytics and advanced trading strategies designed by international experts in Forex trading.

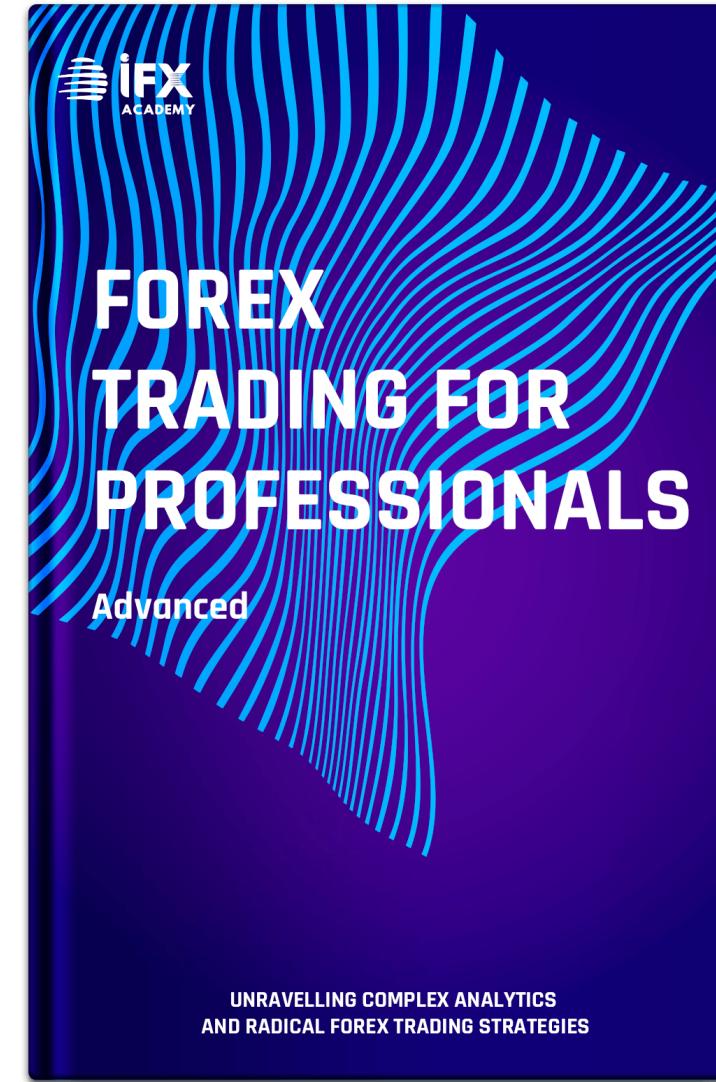

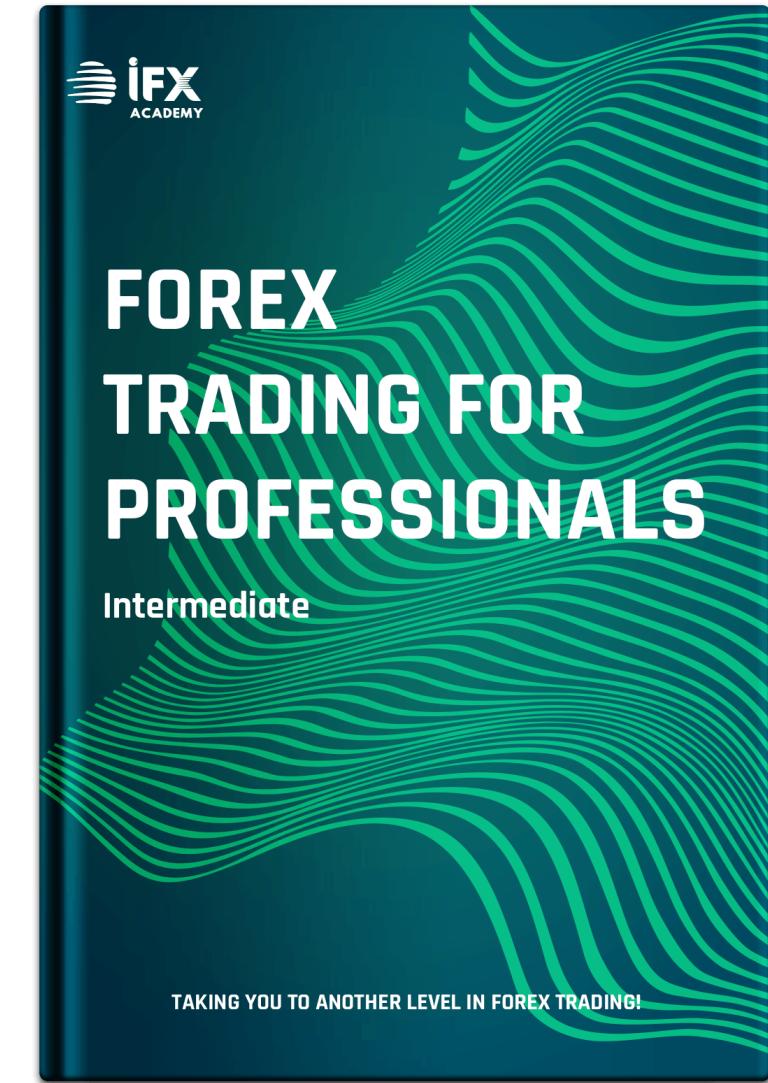

Study methods

Since the course material and assignments are electronically delivered to you, you decide the pace at which you want to complete your modules. Obviously, every student has a unique life situation with its own commitments and challenges. It's a good strategy to work out how much free time you have and how much you can reasonably spend on your course.

Study Material

Since you'll be referring to it time and time again you will have full access to study material in a customized portal. Your course material is packed with examples, explanations, a glossary and interactive assignments. Should you need extra support, this is readily available by email.
